

Richard Manks and the Pedestrians

The zealous, the intrepid, the indefatigable, the unweariable...

RICHARD MANKS

& the PEDESTRIANS

P.S. Marshall

Thank you to any person who is considering reading this book.

It will be sent FREE of charge as a pdf to anyone who requests it. Instead of a book fee, all I ask, in return, is that the reader might consider sending a donation to the charity of their choice writing that:

My donation has been influenced by a free book I recently read called Richard Manks and the Pedestrians which can be found at:

www.kingofthepeds.com

Also, I'm very keen to expand this book with the help of anyone who would like to make a literary contribution towards it.

I often get contacted by people who want to write about pedestrianism and the athletes who gave their all to win in this incredible highly-competitive and popular worldwide Victorian sport.

So, I'm inviting people to write a chapter about the career of individual professional pedestrians (a relative maybe?) from any country around the world who aren't already included in Richard Manks and the Pedestrians.

Also, if anybody would like to contribute any illustrations or old photographs of the 'peds' of the time to include in the book, then I would be thrilled to hear from you!

I look forward to hearing from you all.

Best wishes,

P.S. Marshall (author)
